Job title: Preparator / Technical Assistant

Deadline: 19th July 2024

Employer: African Natural History Research Trust, Leominster, UK.

Contract Duration: 1 year contract

Contract Type: Full Time (40 hours per week)

Salary: Commensurate with experience.

The African Natural History Research Trust (ANHRT) is a charitable research trust and museum focused on African entomology. Our research is aimed at increasing the scientific knowledge of African insects with an emphasis on Lepidoptera (butterflies and moths).

We are looking for a full-time Insect Preparator / Technical Assistant. Within this role you will be expected to sort and identify entomological samples to orders. Assist with the curation and storage of the samples and incorporate all relevant Collection Management Policies and Procedures.

Skills and Experience:

- Familiarity in Insect orders/families and some experience with sorting of field samples is preferable but not essential. All necessary training in the required techniques will be provided.
- Ability to work well in a team, but also able to manage their own time/projects independently.
- Strong organizational and time-management skills.
- Able to multi-task and adapt efficiently to changing priorities.

To apply for this job:

1) Please provide your current CV for the attention of Molly Bashford to enquiries@anhrt.org.uk.
